THE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING.

THE Annual General Meeting of Governors of the County Infirmary, Carmarthen, was held in the Guildhall, Carmarthen, on Thursday, 31st March, when the newly-elected President, Mr. Thomas Bevan, Llangennech, was in the chair.

Mr. J. Arthur Jones, Hon. Secretary, in introducing Mr. Bevan to the meeting, said that he (the President) was a kind friend and a generous supporter. He had been a Vice-President of the Institution for some years, and this year the Management Committee had unanimously elected him as President, the highest honour in their power to bestow. They tendered to Mr. Bevan a very hearty welcome. (Applause.)

During the course of the meeting Canon A. W. Parry, Chairman of the Extension Scheme, announced that the President was giving £50 to the Infirmary Fund, and had already promised £25 a year, free of income tax (equivalent to over £30), for seven years.

This announcement was greeted with loud and prolonged cheering.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The Ninety-first Annual Report of the Management Committee was submitted by the Rev. T. D. Thomas, R.D., Vicar of Llanllwch, in the unavoidable absence of the Chairman, the Rev. Waldo Lewis. The Report read as follows:—

The most interesting item in our Ninety-first Annual Report is the fact that our new Extension Wards were opened during the year under review.

The Wards were occupied at the beginning of October, 1937, and were formally opened by H.R.H. The Duchess of Kent on October 19th, 1937. The Duchess was accompanied by the Duke of Kent, and both the Royal visitors expressed their great satisfaction with the new Wards. It is a cause of legitimate gratification to us that we have thus accomplished half the task we set ourselves about five years ago, and we now have a first-class General Ward and a splendid Maternity Ward.

We recall with pleasure and pride the work and generosity of all those who have helped to bring about this successful conclusion to our wishes. At the same time we must remind ourselves that our task is but half completed, for there still remains the need to alter and modernise the old building. Until this is done we are only half equipped to meet the pressing and growing hospital needs of our area. Those who have seen the new Wards will realise what hospital accommodation can be and will be anxious that men and children patients should have as good provision made for them as is now available for women patients. Your Committee trusts they will be loyally and warmly supported when they proceed to this next part of the work of providing a completely equipped modern Hospital for our area.

INCREASE IN NUMBER OF PATIENTS.

How necessary our extension policy had become can be seen when we note the steady increase in the number of patients since we first decided to extend.

From 1933 to 1937 the total number of patients during each year was:—1,059, 1,359, 1,442, 1,839, 2,013, and in-patients during these years were 755, 827, 931, 1,092, 1,251.

There were nearly 500 more in-patients last year than there were in the year we decided on our extension policy, and last year saw an increase of 159 on the year 1936. It must be remembered, too, that had we greater accommodation the increase in the number of patients would have been greater still. A point of particular interest is that the maternity cases exactly doubled as compared with the previous year, being 73 in 1936, and 146 in 1937. It must not be forgotten that this increase covers only the three months October to December of the occupancy of the new Maternity Ward.

The daily average of in-patients during 1937 was 55.51, as compared with 51.31 in 1936, and 36.19 in 1932; we have thus gone up by 19.32 since our decision to add new Wards. These figures must dispel any lingering doubt as to the urgency of our extension policy.

AGREEMENT WITH COUNTY COUNCIL.

An interesting development we have to report is that we have entered into an agreement with the Carmarthenshire County Council for a period of five years, by which we provide them with 16 beds and the necessary services in the Maternity Ward, while they pay £3 3s. per bed when occupied, and £1 15s. when not occupied; we have also offered two beds to the Borough Council of Carmarthen on the same terms.

It must now be pointed out that the increase in accommodation and in the number of patients treated is necessarily accompanied by an increase in Staff—Nursing and Household. The Nursing Staff has gone up from 20 in 1936, to 32 in 1937, and further increases will be inevitable in the near future. The Household Staff has increased by four, and it has been found necessary to appoint an additional porter.

Our General Account, expenditure has gone up from £6,892 17s. 8d. to £8,850 8s. 8d., an increase of £1,957 11s. on the year's working. Our income during the same year has increased from £7,487 1s. 8d. to £7,853 13s. 2d., an increase of £366 11s. 6d. Our deficit at the end of 1936 was £61 11s., and in 1937 it was £1,058 6s. 6d.

Separate reports will deal as usual with the financial activities of our extension work and with the position of the Contributory Scheme

NEW DEPARTMENT.

An important addition to our work has been the opening of a Pathological Department. This work is carried on by our Pathological Laboratory Technician, Mr. H. S. Websdale, and (for the time being) with the aid of a Visiting Pathologist, who is on the Staff of Swansea Hospital.

Reference was made in our Report last year to the need for the full development of hospital service in the County of Carmarthenshire as a whole, in view of the fact that there was a grave deficiency in the number of available beds. Since then an Advisory Board for the county has been formed, consisting of representatives of the hospitals in the county, with the object of dealing with that and other problems in connection with hospital service in the county area.

Your Committee has six representatives on this Board.

Another important recent development is the effort that is being made to secure a comprehensive Contributory Scheme for South-West Wales. This is intended to do away with competition between the various Hospitals in the area, and to bring about complete reciprocity between them in the matter of payments and services. Your Committee has taken part in the preliminary exploring of the possibility of such a scheme, and will, doubtless, have more to report on this important matter next year.

NEED FOR CHAPEL FOR MORTUARY.

During the year attention was drawn to the need for renovating the Mortuary, and also to the desirability of adding a small Chapel to it. A small Committee investigated the matter, and reported in favour of doing this. It was estimated that the cost would be about £250. The Management Committee agreed with this report, but felt bound to defer putting it into operation because of other pressing needs. It is mentioned in this way in the hope that some generous person or persons may be moved to come to the aid of the Committee and defray the cost of proceeding with this work.

The Management Committee wishes to thank all who have helped the Infirmary during the year, Contributors and Group Secretaries, Collectors, Subscribers, the various Churches, the Hon. Medical Staff, the Consulting Surgeons, the Hon. Secretaries, the Hon. Auditor, the Officers of the Linen Guild, and the local Press. In particular, too, we have to thank the Carmarthen T.O.C. and also the Rover Scouts of Carmarthen, who presented a bed each to the Infirmary. Our deepest thanks also are due to Miss M. A. Davies, a former inhabitant of Carmarthen, for generously endowing a cot at the cost of £500, on which a suitable tablet has been placed.

WELCOME TO NEW PRESIDENT.

Finally, the Committee extends a very warm welcome to our President for the year, Mr. Thomas Bevan, of Llangennech. Mr. Bevan has been a generous friend of the Infirmary in the past; both he and his sister, Miss Bevan, have for a long time taken a keen and kindly interest in our welfare. We are happy to think that we shall have Mr. Bevan's leadership during the coming year.

THE INFIRMARY'S FINANCES.

The Financial Statement was submitted by the Hon. Treasurer (Mr. Cerdyn Evans, Manager of the N.P. Bank, Carmarthen). "It is essential," he reported, "that every supporter of the Infirmary should clearly understand the sources of the Infirmary's income and also the way in which that income is being expended. At the outset I would point out that with the extension of the Infirmary our expenses are assuming alarming proportions. But I would also say that whilst no expense is spared to ensure an up-to-date Hospital Service for the area, the Finance Committee, under the very able direction of its Chairman, Canon Parry, is ever mindful of its duty to see that our income is being expended to the best possible advantage and that every form of waste is checked.

"The first Account with which I shall deal is the Permanent Capital Account, and represents our Reserve Fund—a fund which has been built up by the investment in Trustee Securities of the monies given or left to the Infirmary by numerous kind benefactors during the 91 years of its existence. In 1937 £1,250 was so invested in 3½ per cent. War Stock, but in spite of this, and owing to the serious decline in Stock Exchange values, our Reserve Fund at the 31st December last stood at £26,621, which shows a decrease on the year of £1,080. Fortunately, the shrinkage in capital value has not affected our income from investments, and in 1937 the yield from our Capital Fund was £1,128 12s. 9d., as against £1,075 15s. 7d. in 1936.

"The total receipts for 1937 were £7,853 13s. 2d., an increase over 1936 of £366. On the other hand, the total expenditure in 1937 was £8,850 8s. 8d., an increase of £1,958."

COLLIERS' CONTRIBUTIONS.

There was a decrease in the colliers' weekly contributions of £61. This, Mr. Evans observed, was accounted for by the fact that many of the collieries had been stopped during 1937. It in no way reflected on the loyalty of the colliers to the Infirmary.

The refund of Nurses' Premiums on their relinquishing nursing came to £10 19s. 11d., a decrease of £59. "I do not know," went on Mr. Evans, "whether this decrease is to be deplored. It merely means that Cupid has not been so active among the Nursing Staff in 1937. The refund is controlled largely by the state of the marriage market."

Mr. Evans concluded by paying a tribute to the Hon. Auditor, Mr. Ernest G. White, who had spared neither time nor trouble in ensuring that the accounts were correct.

AN EFFICIENT COMMITTEE.

The Rev. J. T. Davies, M.A., Vicar of St. Peter's, in moving the adoption of the Reports of the Chairman and Treasurer, said that he felt highly honoured to be asked to do so.

He thought they were all very pleased with the account that had been given to them of the work of the Hospital during the past year. It had been most impressive, and to him particularly so, because it was his first experience of a general meeting of the Infirmary. "The report provides us," said the Vicar, "with proof, if proof is needed at all, that the affairs of the Hospital are in very good keeping. We could not possibly have a Management Committee who would show greater enthusiasm, enterprise, and general capability. We must congratulate ourselves upon having entrusted the affairs of the Hospital to such efficient people."

The Management Committee and the Finance Committee were more or less dependent one upon the other. The former had done its best to satisfy the law of supply and demand. Years ago people were very much afraid of entering a hospital; to them it was equivalent to a sentence of death. But public opinion had changed, and people were now only too ready and willing to avail themselves of the best services of a hospital. Their Management Committee was trying to meet the increased demand made by the public upon the hospital amenities.

APPEAL TO COUNTY.

He was afraid, after hearing the Treasurer's Report, that the county was not helping to offset this increase in hospital accommodation in Carmarthen. He would like very much to underline the appeal made in the Management Committee's Report and implied in the Treasurer's Report for increased financial support from the county. Surely there were many sons and daughters of "Shir Gar" in comfortable circumstances who could come to the rescue and enable the Management Committee to supply even better accommodation than they had at the moment.

While congratulating themselves upon the efficiency with which both Committees had done their work, he hoped the supporters would pledge themselves to even greater effort and supply Carmarthen and the county with a First-class Hospital.

HOSPITAL'S SMALL BUDGET.

The Rev. Simon Jones, Peniel, in seconding the motion, said he knew, both as a patient and as a visitor, of the very great work that was being done at the Infirmary. What had struck him most was the fact that the whole budget of running the Hospital was somewhere around £7,000. He blushed to think that they could run a great institution like that on so paltry a sum. He had been connected with several hospitals whose expenditure usually reached £25,000 or £30,000.

Another thing which had impressed him was the fact that the amount paid in salaries was under £2,000, the salary of an individual and not of a staff.

He was proud to say that he had never seen in the whole of Wales, or even in a country like the United States of America, a staff more content to carry out its work than that at the County Infirmary.

Mr. J. O. Hill, Little Water Street, who has done invaluable work for the Infirmary Contributory Scheme, said that in the past year there had been an increase of £329 in the amount contributed. He had submitted a full report on the progress of the scheme at a recent meeting, and there was nothing to add to it.

He wished to thank the Press for its support, and the many persons who had lent him cars to attend meetings in rural areas. The scheme was costing the Infirmary nothing, and the Institution was reaping considerable benefit.

CANON PARRY AND THE ROYAL VISIT.

Canon A. W. Parry, D.Sc., Principal of Trinity College, reporting on the progress of the Extension Fund, said that the outstanding event of the year had been the visit of their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Kent. For two years he had been working to get someone of prominence to visit the Infirmary, and eventually he had been successful. It had been the first visit to Carmarthen of their Royal Highnesses.

Canon Parry recalled some of the human and personal touches during the visit to the Infirmary. The Duke had asked searching questions about the contributions and the class of people who subscribed. He then said: "Look here, we have seen the new part of the Hospital. Would it not be possible for me to look at the other part?" The Matron, who was standing near, shook her head, and whispered to him (Canon Parry): "It's not been polished up."

With regard to the Extension Fund, it was the fourth occasion on which it had been his privilege to speak. It was quite impossible to speak in detail of the contributions or those who had subscribed, but to each and every one he wished to tender his most grateful thanks.

He referred to the personal interest which Mr. T. B. Stephens, the ex-High Sheriff, had taken in the Fund, and the encouragement and help he had received from him.

Canon Parry also spoke of the generous gift of £500 from a person in humble circumstances who used to live in Carmarthen. She had loved St. Peter's Church, and had given the money because her brothers had been boys in the choir.

"I HAVE REDEEMED MY PROMISE."

"A little over four years ago, because no one else was forthcoming, I volunteered to raise the money for the new Wing and to furnish it," went on Canon Parry. "I have redeemed my promise. The Fund yesterday stood at £16,240. The wing and the furniture have been paid for."

But money was still needed, because there came into the market No. 1, The Parade, and it would have been criminal folly on the part of the Infirmary authorities if they had not purchased the premises. They had done so for £1,500, and Canon Parry appealed to all the Institution's supporters to help him until this building had also been paid for.

"I have one last request," he added. "I want to ask someone to volunteer to take my place for the rest of the work that is to be done. Go where you like in the length and breadth of the country, you will not find a finer half of a hospital than the one half of the Hospital we have in Carmarthen. But the old half wants doing badly. Compare the new portion of the building with the old.

"Someone with the fire and enthusiasm of youth was the type of person wanted to carry on the work. "Those of us of the older generation," he went on, "have done our share."

AN AUSPICIOUS YEAR.

Mr. Thomas Bevan, the President, pointed out, in reviewing the work of the Infirmary during the last twelve months, that sincerest thanks were undoubtedly due to the Hospital Committees for what they had done. The year had been an auspicious one as far as the County of Carmarthen was concerned. There remained still a great deal of work to be done, however.

The President remarked that he had recently visited the Carmarthen Hospital. The new Wing was a credit to any town in the country. But those who visited it were also confronted with the old building, which was a great contrast.

Referring to the request of Canon Parry, the President pointed out that while he hoped the invaluable services of Canon Parry were not to be lost to the Infirmary, the plea was an opportunity for and should be the duty of people to come forward in good time to maintain the good work.

The President observed that he had connections with other hospitals and institutions in the country, and he had found that on many occasions, after the enthusiasm and the zeal of putting up new buildings, there was the danger that the old enthusiasm would be lost.

SIGNIFICANT FIGURES.

The figures submitted by the Treasurer were very significant. They showed a falling off in several of the contributions. This was not in keeping with the immense extra expenditure. The new buildings, new equipment, and extra staff called for a large amount of extra contributions to the Institution.

Mr. Bevan observed that he would endeavour to do his best for the Infirmary during his year of office, and added that he hoped to have the opportunity of discussing the matter of finance with the officials. He would pay more attention to a means of maintaining the Institution rather than giving, say, donations for further additions. "As we see up and down the country to-day," he went on, "these promiscuous grants are given by various people, and what I find is that there is trouble in maintaining the new buildings. I hope that this will not be the experience as far as Carmarthen is concerned. They say there are mines untapped in the county. The large gathering present indicates the interest taken in the Hospital."

Mr. John Saer, Joint Hon. Secretary, said that under the new rules the members of the Contributory Scheme had the right to nominate seven governors on the Management Committee for the ensuing year. He had great pleasure in moving the election of Mrs. Williams, Llanybri Vicarage; Miss James, Velindre; Mr. J. Hughes, Felingwm; Mr. J. Williams, Llanboidy; Mr. T. Walters, Four Roads; Mr. T. Williams, Llanginning, and Mr. D. J. Evans, Peniel. They had all taken a live interest in the affairs of the Infirmary.

Alderman David Owen, Carmarthen, seconded.

OMNIBUS VOTE OF THANKS.

On behalf of all supporters of the Carmarthen Infirmary, Mr. H. N. Evans, Carmarthen, moved an omnibus vote of thanks to the Management Committee for their valuable services; the Honorary Medical Staff, Matron, and Nurses for their loyalty and devotion; Canon Parry for his excellent services to the Extension Fund; Mr. J. O. Hill for his services to the Contributory Scheme; the Hon. Auditor, Mr. Ernest G. White; the Hon. Secretaries, Mr. John Arthur Jones and Mr. John Saer, and all others who had helped in any way in the good work. To all the local Press especially the Infirmary owed a debt of gratitude.

Alderman David Owen seconded.

MAYOR'S TRIBUTE TO PRESIDENT.

Councillor J. O. Morgans, the Mayor of Carmarthen, moved a very cordial vote of thanks to the President. Mr. Bevan, as they all knew, had extensive business interests, and therefore his time was limited. He had, however, devoted a great deal of his time to the services of the county, and had been through the office of High Sheriff of Carmarthenshire. "We all hope," added the Mayor, "that in the very near future even higher honours will be showered on Mr. Bevan. I feel confident in saying that there is no one in this county more deserving of these honours."

All supporters of the Infirmary were sure that under Mr. Bevan's guidance the Institution would prosper. It was to be hoped that the coming year would be a record one, not only for medical and nursing services, but also in finance, so that any adverse balances might be wiped out.

Seconding, the Rev. David Williams, Abergwili, said that he had known the President for very many years. Mr. Bevan had already demonstrated one of his qualities by his handsome donation.

MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE.

As the result of a ballot the following were appointed on the Management Committee for the ensuing year:—Mr. F. T. Brigstocke; Mr. John Davies, Alltwalis; Rev. J. T. Davies, Vicar of St. Peter's; Mr. J. O. Hill, Mr. Sidney James; Rev. D. Jenkins, Vicar of Abergwili; Mr. Iorwerth B. Jones; Mr. H. Ll. Lewis, Editor, "The Welshman"; Rev. Waldo Lewis; Mr. William Lewis, Water Street; Mr. Ryle Morris, Brynmyrddin; Mr. J. E. P. Morris, solicitor; Alderman David Owen, J.P.; Mr. Arthur Phillips, 46, Pentrefelin Street; Mrs. Arthur Preston, College Road; Mrs. H. M. Rees, Croft, Whitland; Capt. Ithel Thomas; Rev. T. D. Thomas, R.D., Llanllwch; Mr. W. H. Thomas, The Emporium; Mrs. E. G. White, "Southfield," and the Rev. David Williams, Abergwili.

CARMARTHEN COUNTY INFIRMARY

CONTRIBUTORY SCHEME.

Objects:

(1) To assist in providing an increased and more assured Income for the Carmarthen County Infirmary.

(2) To assist persons of moderate means in providing Hospital treatment when necessary for themselves and their dependants.

Subscriptions and Privileges.

The payment of a minimum of 2d. a week entitles the Contributor and his dependants to free treatment and maintenance while at the Infirmary, subject to the conditions herein stated.

“DEPENDANTS” means any member of a Contributor’s family ordinarily resident with and dependent on the Contributor.

The following are not included in the benefits of the Contributory Scheme :—

1. Maternity Cases.
2. Treatment for which the State or Local Authority has specifically undertaken to make other provision.

Contributors whose payments are in arrear for three months will no longer be entitled to free treatment unless such arrears be caused by unemployment or illness.

Patients whose circumstances are such as would entitle them to join the Scheme, but who have not done so, shall be liable to be charged the full cost of maintenance while at the Infirmary. Members are not entitled to benefit until a period of six months has elapsed from the time of joining, except new residents in the Infirmary area who join within 3 months of becoming permanent residents, who, if accepted by the Committee as members, are entitled to immediate benefit. A Contribution paid to cover a past period will not, in any case, entitle a Member to immediate benefit.

Admission.

Only such cases for whom Hospital treatment is essential can be accepted as In- or Out-patients.

The necessity for Institutional treatment is to be decided by the patient's own doctor (if a member of the Medical Staff), or in other cases by the doctor for the week, after recommendation by his or her own doctor.

Patients will be admitted as soon as there is an available bed. Urgent cases will be admitted immediately. In all cases it is to be understood that the liability of the Institution is limited to the extent of its accommodation.

Income Limits.

The scheme shall apply in the cases of persons whose income does not exceed the following limits :—

(1) Single persons over sixteen, widowers or widows without dependants—£3 a week.

(2) Married couples with no dependent children, and persons with one dependant—£4 a week.

(3) Married couples with child or children dependent, and persons with more than one dependant—£5 a week.

Contributors to the scheme whose income is in excess of the limits stated above may have their maintenance charges reduced or remitted in case of admission to the Infirmary. But charges in the matter of medical or surgical treatment for such contributors must be arranged by the patient and his or her doctor.

The ordinary rules dealing with the admission and discharge of patients will apply to patients admitted under the Contributory Scheme, and preferential treatment will not be given to such patients.

Methods of Contributing.

(1) Through places of Employment; arrangements to be made for a weekly deduction from wages.

(2) By the formation of local groups contributing through a voluntary collector.

Where employees consent to the weekly deduction, their employers should be asked to contribute regularly a further sum. Such contributions can be entered as trading expenses for Income Tax reduction.

The Institution, through its Management Committee, reserves the right of revising, adding to, or terminating these rules by giving six months' notice in the local press.

Governors, Life Governors, Employers of Labour and all are asked to help to make the Scheme a success.

N.B.—Members paying 3d. per week enjoy the following Privileges :—

1. The costs of hospital treatment incurred while away from home, due to accident or illness of the Contributor or his Dependants, to be paid by the Infirmary Management Committee.
2. Expenses incurred by treatment at another hospital to which a Contributor or any Dependant has been sent by a member of the Honorary Medical Staff of the Infirmary to be defrayed by the Management Committee.

All correspondence, etc., in regard to the Scheme should be addressed to :—
